Hi Ellen,

Hope all is well! Attached are the logos for KaBOOM! and DPS.

Could you send me the mock-up of the t-shirt once it is ready so we can approve? Thank you!

Hi Ellen,

Apologies for the delayed response and thanks for this update-- what an amazing design! I can't wait to see how the rest of the mini golf holes turn out!

I'll reach out to our DPS contacts to see who can make it out to the event and to also get the logo for the shirts. Thanks so much, we are so excited to see this event come to life!

Naudy,

Here's our February report. As noted, we encountered a conflict with access to the event venue and had to move our start date one week to April 21. Every else remains the same. I have also attached an application from one of the selected artists (Cheng) as an example of how one of the holes will look.

One more thing: We are planning to give T-shirts to the first 400 children to play at our miniature golf attraction. Can you send me the appropriate Kaboom! or Dr. Pepper/Snapple logo so it can be added to the shirt?

Hi Ellen,

Hope all is well and thank you so much for all of the amazing work you and your team have done to date! I hope your call for artist proposals went well and that the judges had/are having a great time selecting the winning proposals.

At this time, I am writing to get a February update on your project. Please update the February section of the chart below and return no later than Wednesday 2/21. Thank you!

Little Tokyo Open
Check in (Month)	Project Description (Has this changed?)	Phase (Choose phase and provide update):	Estimated Completion Date

		Creative, Planning, Execution, Finalizing, Complete	(Subject to change)
October	Little Tokyo, one of only three remaining historic "Japantowns" in the United States, will be transformed into a more playful and family-friendly attraction. "Little Tokyo Open: The Art of Mini Golf" will turn underused areas into a 9-hole miniature golf course where participants can take a self-guided tour of Little Tokyo as they play. Artists will use recycled materials in designing and fabricating the golf holes making this project fun AND sustainable. More than 400 kids will play and test out their golf skills.	Creative phase: Currently issuing a call for artists the first week of November to create concept designs.	4/13/2018
December	The call for artists' proposals has been issued with a deadline of Jan. 15, 2018 when a panel of judges will be convened to determine which proposals best capture the theme: "Little Tokyo: Past, Present, Future."	Planning phase: Little Tokyo Business Association, along with fiscal agent, Japanese American Cultural & Community Center, and representatives from two environmental groups, Sustainable Little Tokyo and Global Green, have been meeting to help ensure that Little Tokyo Open embodies desired Play Everywhere goals. (1) Basic components of the nine golf holes have been ordered. (2) Preliminary layout has been agreed upon by participating organizations. (3) Event kick-off is tentatively set for Friday, April 13, 11 a.m. with State Legislator Miguel Santiago and L.A. City Councilmember Jose Huizar participating. Mayor Eric Garcetti is also invited to attend, but his attendance has not yet been confirmed. (4) The process of identifying in-kind donors and groups of volunteers has begun.	4/13/2018
February	The call for artists to design individual golf holes was successful. As a result, we have selected the individual artists and/or teams of artists to create the nine holes for the Little Tokyo Open: The Art of Miniature Golf . Designs represent the artists' interpretations of Little Tokyo's historic past, lively present, and a vision for the future.	CHANGE: We have moved the start date for the pop-up miniature golf project up one week. Opening day will now be Saturday, April 21 , 11 a.m. The media will be invited to the kick-off (tee-off?) earlier in the day at 9 a.m. We have advised the invited elected officials (Mayor Garcetti, Assemblyman Santiago, and City Council member Huizar) of the change. Golf hole artists will also be invited to the press event. One of the artist's applications and drawings are attached as an example. We have ordered T-shirts imprinted with "Inaugural Little Tokyo Open" for the participating children. We have begun our outreach campaign and will be promoting the Little Tokyo Open at family-friendly events beginning this weekend, March 3. The Little Tokyo Open has been added to the City's official Calendar of Events for Asian Pacific Heritage Month. We will begin our social media campaign starting March 5.	4/21/2018
